Agri-cultural.

It was believed, when Congress adjourned, that a liberal appropriation had been made for agricultural experimental stations, and several gentlemen connected with State Agricultural Colleges telegraphed to their respective institutions to commence the erection of buildings at once. But the "watchdogs of the treasury" have found on a careful examination of the bill that it makes no appropriation of the public money as a regular appropriation. Fifteen thousand dollars is placed at the disposal of each State for the establishment of agricultural experimental stations, to be especially provided for by Congress in the appropriations from year to year from the sales of public lands, the first payment to be made on the first of October, 1887. No appropriation has been especially provided by Congress, and thus far no way has been suggested whereby the money can be had.

The friends of the measure feel confident that steps will be taken to overcome the difficulty.

The slopes of Elms and Yewvines over their branches to the forlorn action of volcanic ashes, and reports from New Zealand indicate that the ashes from last year's eruption have enriched the soil to a remarkable degree.

Cows usually well fed at this season, and if a farmer has more than he can keep in good feed all the summer, it is much better to dispose of one or more of the poorest, and give extra feed and care to the remainder. But it should always be the poorest cow that is sold. In most places where the best of feed is plentiful, the sale of the poorest will increase rather than diminish the profit.

It is an error to suppose that severe winter is destructive to insect life. According to Mr. McLaughlin, an English entomologist, larvae may be frozen until as brittle as a rotten stick, in which condition they can scarcely be said to live, but on the return of warm weather they revive, quite uninjured by their freezing. It is a noteworthy fact that butterflies and bumblebees have been found almost as close to the North Pole as man has ever approached.

Experience with evergreens has shown that there is little use in setting out trees in cold weather, where the temperature is not warm enough to start the roots into activity, or start the new foliage on the branches. All that the tree can do at this time is to calous the newly-broken roots so that new fibres may put forth. This is better done in some protected place. The rule, therefore, should be to take up trees early, to sell them in where they will not be exposed to sun and wind, and only plant in the open ground when it becomes warm enough for roots to grow.

No farm product of equal value is more unsatisfactory to hold for a rise than butter. Its price, when newly made, is nearly always the best. It is subject to greater deterioration in quality than any other product, and no matter how carefully protected, must suffer some in comparison with that which is freshly made. The old-fashioned dairy butter, made in June, used to be good for a twelve-month if packed in sweet crocks and covered with salt brine to exclude any odors. There is little such butter now. That made by the creamery process is not so good, but it is better than the old-fashioned butter. As nearly all butter is now made by the creamery process, it is better to keep it in the open ground when it becomes warm enough for roots to grow.

Sixty-eight of Houlton's business men have agreed not to take province money any more, except at a discount of 75 per cent.

The valuation of Fort Portland, as shown by its town reports, is $267,000; above apparent market value, $200,000. It includes the railroad bonds; the 676; rate of taxation 22 mills.

The Houlton Library Association reports to be over A. H. Fogg & Co.'s store. At a meeting of the association held last week it was decided to get everything in working order as rapidly as possible.

Number of cars shipped from Houlton station last week ending April 2d: Potatoes; 1; leather; 3; miscellaneous; 4; hay; 6; lumber; 1; horses; 2; ladies; 1; extract; 7; shingles; 8; starch; 1. Total, 41 cars.

The Saturday night train out from this station encountered a drift of ice ten feet deep in the W. Settlement crossing—two miles from the depot, says the Houlton Free Press. The passengers had to walk back, the snow piling up so rapidly as to prevent the movement of the train either way. A crew of fifty men succeeded in making a passage through the drift Sunday afternoon. Monday noon the train got as far as Greenville when the drift was encountered, delaying the arrival at Sebasticus until 3 P. M. The first train to arrive here since Saturday afternoon put in an appearance about ten o'clock, Tuesday forenoon.

The Dominion steamer Vancouver, Capt. Lindell from Liverpool, 21st ult., via Halifax, arrived at Portland Tuesday forenoon, with one hundred and fifty-seven passengers and 2,400 tons of freight.

G. A. Murch, who drives the stage from South Casco to Portland, up to last Saturday had made one hundred daily trips, and was adding to the number, the seven-day run on which of course he did not run his stage, makes one hundred and seventy-five trips in all. The stage is a good sleighing from Portland to Casco for this winter. It is said this is the longest stretch of continuous sleighing in this vicinity for at least fifty years.

Monday night, Quartermaster Thomas Cavanaugh, of the Dominion line steamer Vancouver, then about one hundred miles from Portland, was taken into the signal halliards. Cavanaugh was the rigging of the jigger mast, which is the mast nearest the stern. In some way the mast was loosened, and fell striking the deck below and dinging instantly. Cavanaugh was a young man, about twenty-four years old, and leaves a wife in Liverpool.

Tuesday afternoon, a young woman of good appearance, and very nicely dressed, created an excitement on Spring street, Portland. She walked up and down the sidewalk, gesturing wildly and waving a manuscript over her head, at the same time shouting and screaming. She threatened to pull down the house, and made a good deal of insane talk about other well known families. The police station was telephoned for to the police station, and the woman was taken into the wagon and quieted down. At the station it was ascertained that the young woman lived in the city, and she was taken to her home by a car. The woman was in her carriage. Poor health which had affected the lady's mind, was the cause of the trouble.

The new proprietors of the Atlantic House, Bar Harbor, intend to make extensive improvements to the hotel, and expects to expend ten thousand dollars in refitting the building. The same landlord who has the house last year, will conduct it this year.

Wednesday of last week, inaugurated a new drive in the building operations at Bar Harbor. Many buildings are a little more advanced on account of the boisterous weather of the past month, and there are now just begun or yet to be commenced, so to speak, a number of new buildings, and things with all possible expedition. If fair weather characterizes April, this month will be one of the busiest the place has ever known, and will witness the erection of some of the finest buildings on the island.

A gentleman who has had occasion to make excavations in the woods says that he is not a member of the local geological society, but that he has been digging for some time, and has found a number of bones, and a pick could be used as handle as in June.

An Augusta young man who has reached his majority, has resided in his life with his parents, and has been digging for some time, and has found a number of bones, and a pick could be used as handle as in June.

There are numerous speculations as to the result of the election, and it is said that the Republican ticket will be elected. The range from the 15th to the 20th. Different statements are made about the thickness of the ice. Some say it is two feet, and others that it is a mere shell of a few inches thick. Cap. Fife tested the ice about the dam recently and found it very soft.

Monday night, the oldest person, Mrs. Maria Brown, died at the residence of her son. She was 94 years and 8 days old. She was the oldest of a family of 12 children, and was born in Washington.

The new proprietors of the Atlantic House, Bar Harbor, intend to make extensive improvements to the hotel, and expects to expend ten thousand dollars in refitting the building. The same landlord who has the house last year, will conduct it this year.

Wednesday of last week, inaugurated a new drive in the building operations at Bar Harbor. Many buildings are a little more advanced on account of the boisterous weather of the past month, and there are now just begun or yet to be commenced, so to speak, a number of new buildings, and things with all possible expedition. If fair weather characterizes April, this month will be one of the busiest the place has ever known, and will witness the erection of some of the finest buildings on the island.

A gentleman who has had occasion to make excavations in the woods says that he is not a member of the local geological society, but that he has been digging for some time, and has found a number of bones, and a pick could be used as handle as in June.

An Augusta young man who has reached his majority, has resided in his life with his parents, and has been digging for some time, and has found a number of bones, and a pick could be used as handle as in June.

There are numerous speculations as to the result of the election, and it is said that the Republican ticket will be elected. The range from the 15th to the 20th. Different statements are made about the thickness of the ice. Some say it is two feet, and others that it is a mere shell of a few inches thick. Cap. Fife tested the ice about the dam recently and found it very soft.

Monday night, the oldest person, Mrs. Maria Brown, died at the residence of her son. She was 94 years and 8 days old. She was the oldest of a family of 12 children, and was born in Washington.

The Dominion steamer Vancouver, Capt. Lindell from Liverpool, 21st ult., via Halifax, arrived at Portland Tuesday forenoon, with one hundred and fifty-seven passengers and 2,400 tons of freight.

G. A. Murch, who drives the stage from South Casco to Portland, up to last Saturday had made one hundred daily trips, and was adding to the number, the seven-day run on which of course he did not run his stage, makes one hundred and seventy-five trips in all. The stage is a good sleighing from Portland to Casco for this winter. It is said this is the longest stretch of continuous sleighing in this vicinity for at least fifty years.

Monday night, Quartermaster Thomas Cavanaugh, of the Dominion line steamer Vancouver, then about one hundred miles from Portland, was taken into the signal halliards. Cavanaugh was the rigging of the jigger mast, which is the mast nearest the stern. In some way the mast was loosened, and fell striking the deck below and dinging instantly. Cavanaugh was a young man, about twenty-four years old, and leaves a wife in Liverpool.

Tuesday afternoon, a young woman of good appearance, and very nicely dressed, created an excitement on Spring street, Portland. She walked up and down the sidewalk, gesturing wildly and waving a manuscript over her head, at the same time shouting and screaming. She threatened to pull down the house, and made a good deal of insane talk about other well known families. The police station was telephoned for to the police station, and the woman was taken into the wagon and quieted down. At the station it was ascertained that the young woman lived in the city, and she was taken to her home by a car. The woman was in her carriage.
